

OFFICIAL MAIL FROM THE NORTH POLE

To,

Not long now and I'll be leaving the North Pole for my long trip on Christmas Eve. Although it's a long trip, I'm very much looking forward to visiting your home.

When my elves pointed out to me today that your name has made it onto the nice list I was so proud of you. You see, you have gained an outstanding number of gold stars next to your name this year for your kindness, consideration, listening to your parents and helpfulness. This is such great news!

I see you've requested a few things on your wish list. That's a pretty big order, but I'll see what I can do. In the meantime though, if you continue with your excellent behaviour then I just might be able to put something special in my sleigh for you.

Your home is at the very top of my visit list this year, so please remember to be in bed fast asleep early this Christmas Eve. By the way, I'd love more of those treats. They were delicious last year!

There is so much to be done up here. The reindeer need new bells on their harnesses, the ribbon curling station needs to be oiled, the elves need more wrapping paper... oh, the list is endless!

Sincerely,

Santa Clause
